Dear Mr. Saunders:

We are pleased that you have accepted [redacted] invitation to talk to our Seminar on Intelligence and National Security Policy which will meet on Wednesday, 7 November 1984, from 5:00 to 7:30 p.m. This will be a rerun of the Seminar you spoke to in June. That Seminar evoked such a favorable response that we decided to repeat it. Your remarks and responses to questions were greatly appreciated and highlighted in complimentary comments from the CIA participants.

STAT

The arrangements and format of your session will be much as they were in June, and I shall repeat them here. [redacted] again has agreed to join with you in a discussion on "Intelligence and National Security Policy: The Arab-Israeli War of 1973." Since this will be the first session, [redacted] the Seminar leader, will give a 30-minute introduction to the series. He will then ask you to describe what the policymakers' needs were before, during, and after the war and how well they were served. Dick will be asked to comment on the subject from the point of view of CIA's production components. We have asked Dick to call you about the Seminar. You and he may make any mutually agreeable arrangement for your part of the session. The meeting will conclude with a general discussion period.
